Dear Ministers,

Thank you for the opportunity to submit this email in regard to Digital identity Legislation.

I strongly appose this legislation to introduce a digital identity and apply it to every Australian person.

I believe we have enough digital identity as it is without introducing more invasive information to be used and abused against Australian citizens.

We already have my gov apps to connect with government agencies.

China is a great example of how digital identities can be used to control a population by collecting information of a person's private life checking on their every move to see if they are being a good or bad citizen in the eyes of the Government.

China has used this to form a social credit score to be applied to each person, thus, if you get enough negative scores, you are locked out of many services that you take for granted. e.g., Travel, loans & medical etc.

This digital identity legislation may sound good, but I believe it would be used against us the people and could oppress us and control us then bring fear and intimidation upon us.

I reject this legislation and request that you table my strong objection to the introduction Of any Digital Identity system within Australia.

Yours sincerely,

IAN BRISTOW
